

Feng Shui Your Way Into Fashion with Asian Inspired Jewelry from Kryzia Kreation

Seminole, Florida (August 15,2007) . . . Feng Shui is all about simplicity and balance, which is typically found in much of Asian art and architecture. Now, those same attributes can be found in the new Asian Collection jewelry line at Kryzia Kreation. Christina Paluszek, owner and designer of Kryzia Kreation, takes her jewelry designs to a new level by combining sleek lines of sterling silver with semi-precious gemstones to create Asian-inspired architectural designs in the forms of pagoda temple necklaces and earrings.

Christina Paluszek has always been drawn to the strong, clean lines of Asian artwork, whether it be the soft-hued serene images of birds and flowers, or the strong bold designs of pagoda temples, because they always seem to express much emotion and story. The new jewelry designs featured in the Asian Collection make a bold statement, but are subtle enough to be worn everyday.

Kryzia Kreation, is known for creating beautiful, whimsical jewelry fashioned mainly from sterling silver combined with various semi-precious gemstones, freshwater pearls, Swarovski Austrian crystals, and 14kt gold-filled, 14kt gold and 24kt gold accents.
